	Present Indicative	Present Subjunctive	Preterite Indicative
2. Verbs in -car change c to qu before e. Example: ficar.	regular	fique fiques fique fiquemos fiqueis fiquem	fiquei ficaste ficou ficamos ficastes ficaram
3. Verbs in -gar change g to gu before e. Example: chegar.	regular	chegue chegues chegue cheguemos chegueis cheguem	cheguei chegaste chegou chegamos chegastes chegaram
4. Verbs in -ger and -gir change g to j before a or o. Example: corrigir.	corrijo corriges corrige corrigemos corrigeis corrigem	corrija corrijas corrija corrijamos corrijais corrijam	regular
5. Verbs in -guer and -guir change gu to g before a or o. Example: distinguir.	distingo distingues distingue distinguimos distinguis distinguem	distinga distingas distinga distingamos distingais distingam	regular
6. Verbs in -çar change ç to c before e. Example: começar.	regular	comece comeces comece comecemos comeceis comecem	comecei começaste começou começamos começastes começaram
7. Verbs in -cer and -cir change c to ç before o or a. Example: esquecer.	esqueço esqueces esquece esquecemos esqueceis esquecem	esqueça esqueças esqueça esqueçamos esqueçais esqueçam	regular
8. Verbs in -guar add an acute accent or a dieresis over the u before e depending on whether it is stressed or unstressed. Example: averiguar. But note that usage and authorities are at variance concerning the accentuation of aguar, desaguar, enxaguar, and minguar. These words are commonly stressed: deságuo, deságuas, etc.	regular	averigúe averigúes averigúe averigüemos averigüeis averigúem	averigüei averiguaste averiguou averiguamos averiguastes averiguaram
9. Verbs in -quar are few, little used, and mostly defective. Two exist which have full conjugations. They take an acute accent or dieresis over u before e according as u is stressed or not. In Brazil, usage is commonly as shown in the examples, although there is disagreement as to accentuation.	apropínquo apropínquas apropínqua apropinquamos apropinquais apropínquam	apropínqüe apropínqües apropínqüe apropinqüemos apropinqüeis apropínqüem	apropinqüei apropinquaste apropinquou apropinquamos apropinquastes apropinquaram
	obliquo obliquas obliqua obliquamos obliquais obliquam	obliqúe obliqúes obliqúe obliqüemos obliqüeis obliqúem	obliqüei obliquaste obliquou obliquamos obliquastes obliquaram
10. Saudar, abaular and certain verbs with iu where hiatus is to be made, as enviuvar, add an acute accent in the present tenses to indicate hiatus.	saúdo saúdas saúda saudamos saudais saúdam	saúde saúdes saúde saudemos saudeis saúdem

	Present Indicative	Present Subjunctive	Preterite Indicative
11. Similarly, verbs with ai or ui bear an accent on the i to indicate hiatus. But note that bainhar and its compounds, although similarly pronounced, do not bear a written accent.	arraígo arraígas arraíga arraigamos arraigais arraígam	arraígue arraígues arraígue arraigüemos arraigueis arraíguem
12. Verbs in -oar bear a circumflex accent over the o when it is followed by o. Example: soar.	sôo soas soa soamos soais soam

RADICAL-CHANGING VERBS

	Present Indicative	Present Subjunctive	Preterite Indicative
13. Verbs in -ear change stem e to ei in root-stressed forms. Note that the e of this diphthong is close. Example: cear.	ce*i*o ce*i*as ce*i*a ceamos ceais ce*i*am	ce*i*e ce*i*es ce*i*e ceemos ceeis ce*i*em
14. Idear and estrear change e to éi under the above conditions, the accent denoting open vowel quality.
15. Remanchar is popularly though incorrectly conjugated as if it were remanchear. See 13 above.
16. Verbs in -iar are regular, with a few exceptions: ansiar, odiar, incendiar, mediar, and remediar are conjugated as in 13 above. With regard to certain others, some hesitancy exists, the regular forms being more widely accepted as correct.	od*ei*o od*ei*as od*ei*a odiamos odiais od*ei*am	od*ei*e od*ei*es od*ei*e odiemos odieis od*ei*em
17. In -ar verbs with the stem vowel e, this e is given an open quality whenever stressed. (For exceptions see 13 above and A and B below.) Example: levar. A. Verbs ending in -echar, -exar, -ejar (excepting invejar) and -elhar, retain close e throughout, as do the verbs chegar and its compounds, pesar when it means "to grieve," ensebar and amancebar. B. If the stem vowel is followed by m or n it will be pronounced as a nasal close e); e.g., sentar, remar, ordenhar.	lęvo lęvas lęva levamos levais lęvam	lęve lęves lęve levemos leveis lęvem
18. Similarly, -ar verbs with stem vowel o have open o when stressed. Example: mofar. A. Excepted are those verbs in which a nasal follows the stem vowel, which then is pronounced as a nasal close o: abandonar, tomar. B. Also excepted are verbs in -oar (see 12 above) and the verb afofar which retain close o.	mǫfo mǫfas mǫfa mofamos mofais mǫfam	mǫfe mǫfes mǫfe mofemos mofeis mǫfem
19. In -er verbs with stem vowel e, the quality of the vowel sound changes regularly as shown (ẹ indicates close, ę open quality.) A. If a nasal follows e the quality will be close in all forms; e.g., vender, tremer.	escrẹvo escręves escręve escrevemos escreveis escręvem	escrẹva escrẹvas escrẹva escrevamos escrevais escrẹvam

20. Similarly, in -er verbs with stem vowel o. Example: mover. A. As in 19A, a following nasal keeps the stem vowel close and nasal; e.g., esconder, comer. B. For further irregularities of verbs in -oer, (roer, moer, doer and compounds), see 56 below.	mǫvo mǫves mǫve movemos moveis mǫvem	mǫva mǫvas mǫva movamos movais mǫvam
21. In -ir verbs with stem vowel e or o, there are two types:
A. e changes to i and o to u in 1st singular present indicative and all of the present subjunctive. The quality of stressed e or o is open unless followed by a nasal. Examples: ferir, dormir.	f*i*ro fęres fęre ferimos feris fęrem	f*i*ra f*i*ras f*i*ra f*i*ramos f*i*rais f*i*ram
	d*u*rmo dǫrmes dǫrme dormimos dormis dǫrmem	d*u*rma d*u*rmas d*u*rma d*u*rmamos d*u*rmais d*u*rmam
B. e changes to i and o to u when stressed, and in all of the present subjunctive. Examples: agredir, sortir.	agr*i*do agr*i*des agr*i*de agredimos agredis agr*i*dem	agr*i*da agr*i*das agr*i*da agr*i*damos agr*i*dais agr*i*dam
	s*u*rto s*u*rtes s*u*rte sortimos sortis s*u*rtem	s*u*rta s*u*rtas s*u*rta s*u*rtamos s*u*rtais s*u*rtam
22. A few -ir verbs with stem vowel u change u to o in certain forms. Example: subir.	subo sǫbes sǫbe subimos subis sǫbem
23. Verbs with stem diphthong oi not followed by a consonant (e.g. boiar, apoiar) take an acute accent and have open o in root-stressed forms.	bóio bóias bóia boiamos boiais bóiam	bóie bóies bóie boiemos boieis bóiem
